

Call for Association for Mentoring and Inclusion (AMIE) Mentees for 2022-2023

AMIE's mentoring program is aimed at guiding Ph.D. students, both students currently in the U.S. and elsewhere, in economics/public policy/applied economics/agricultural economics, especially those from underrepresented minorities (URM), LGBTQIA++ community (broadly defined), first-generation college, and international students.

Who Can Be an AMIE Mentee?

- Anyone who is a Ph.D. student actively working on their dissertation and who will not be on the job market in economics/public policy/applied economics/agricultural economics/related fields in 2022/2023.
- A minimum commitment of one year (roughly 12-15 hours in a year).

If you are excited to be AMIE Mentee, please email us your recent CV, a letter of support from your advisor, director of graduate studies, or other faculty member in your planned field of study, cover letter (you may provide information here about any experiences as a member of a group you identify with, and/or how you think you would benefit from the being an AMIE Mentee), and a writing sample (it can be 10-15 pages long and is optional) by June 15, 2022.

Email: amie.mentoring@gmail.com

AMIE Mentoring Team (2022-2023)

Co-Directors: Jason Lindo (Texas A&M University), Catherine Maclean (Temple University), and Nishith Prakash (University of Connecticut)

Additional information about AMIE

AMIE was co-founded with the vision to identify and address group-based or other outcome disparities for junior scholars in the economics profession. In particular, AMIE aims to address various gaps in the economics profession for Ph.D. students, especially those from underrepresented minorities (URM), LGBTQIA++ community (broadly defined), first-generation college, and international students. The core functions of AMIE include mentorship; equal access to opportunities; inclusion and outreach; and hosting programs and events designed to provide networking opportunities, professional development, and so forth.

AMIE strives to be diverse along all dimensions that may be important for effective mentoring and inclusion. AMIE is proud to be associated with dedicated board members who care deeply about inclusion and diversity. In addition to this board, AMIE also has a team comprising of 19 professionals from academia, think tanks, and the private sector that is involved in long-term strategic planning.

In 2021-2022, AMIE ran a successful mentoring program for 32 mentees with the help of 25 mentors.

CONTACT US:

Email: info@econmentoring.org

VISIT US:

www.econmentoring.org

CO-FOUNDERS:

Priya Mukherjee, Ph.D.
Email: priya.mukherjee@ecomnetoring.org

Nishith Prakash, Ph.D.
Email: nishith.prakash@econmentoring.org