

Call for Applications for Job Market Preparation 2022-23

The Association for Mentoring and Inclusion in Economics (AMIE) is now accepting submissions from current job market candidates for having a one-on-one session (approximately 1 hour) with a senior economist (in academia/non-academic research/private sector etc.). Candidates will receive feedback on their job market application materials, including their cover letter, resume, and website. This also includes one practice mock interview.

Who can apply?

Ph.D. and Post-Doctoral students in economics/public policy/applied economics/agricultural economics, who are planning to be on the 2022-2023 job market are eligible to apply.

How to apply?

Please fill the google form: <https://forms.gle/UQJwdinGE2G91Nx9>. You will need to upload the following two documents:

- your most recent CV, and
- a cover letter (here you may provide information about any experiences you have had as a member of a group you identify with, and/or how you think you would benefit from this opportunity). Please also include the name and contact information of your primary PhD advisor.

The deadline for submissions is October 15, 2022. Apply using the google form <https://forms.gle/UQJwdinGE2G91Nx9>.
